

Express Interface Certification Overview

The Express certification process includes a set of requirements that an integrator must meet to obtain a card-present (e.g. retail) and/or card-not-present (e.g. direct marketing, e-commerce) certification to process transactions through the Express Interface. Documentation available on the Worldpay O.N.E., along with the Developer Integration team (certification@vantiv.com) will provide the necessary information to complete the certification process.

Step 1: Setup a Free Test Account Visit Create-a-Test-Account to sign up for a free production-simulated test account to use during the integration process. Upon sign up you will receive a test account welcome email with several hyperlinks, including the Express Interface API. The Express API is used to integrate your hardware or software to the Express Processing Interface.

Step 2: Test Your Integration Worldpay Integrated Payment's production-simulated certification environment allows you to code, test, and evaluate your integration to the Express Interface.

Step 3: Complete and Submit the Express Request for Certification (RFC) and Scenarios Document The RFC and Scenarios document provides the Certification team with details about your software or hardware. Please complete and return the RFC and Scenarios documentation, along with your company policy in securing sensitive cardholder information to certification@vantiv.com. If needed, Worldpay Integrated Payments will provide any additional certification documentation, test script, receipt requirements and test cards.

Step 4: Certification Testing and Review After the integration team receives the RFC and Scenarios document, all the necessary testing scripts will be provided. The integrator will need to submit/complete the appropriate script(s). Upon receiving the completed scripts, the certification team will perform a detailed review of the test transactions/requests submitted and will respond with any necessary/recommended changes to your integration/application.

Step 5: Express Certification Letter Once all certification requirements have been met and completed, you will receive an official Letter of Certification which details what functionality has been implemented and approved for use on the Express Interface. Feel free to contact your Integrated Partner Manager for more information regarding the boarding of live merchant accounts.
